

Rolltok — User Agreement & Privacy Policy

Version 2026-08-01 · An entertainment-only platform · co-powered by Hashtag

The core promise

Rolltok is an entertainment-only platform. Content uploaded here is published by the creator on their own responsibility and at their own risk. Creators choose the category and confirm they hold the rights to publish. If a copyright issue or pattern appears, the discussion is with the person who performed that upload — Rolltok will not be responsible for that issue.

1 · Creator responsibility

- Every clip, episode, sound, photo and caption published on Rolltok is uploaded and published by the creator, on the creator's own responsibility.
- By uploading, you confirm the content is truly yours to publish, or that you hold every right and permission required to publish it.
- You choose the category and you choose to publish — the decision, and the risk that comes with it, is entirely yours.

2 · What Rolltok is

- Rolltok exists to create an entertainment environment only. We provide the stage, the feed and the tools — we do not author, commission or verify creator uploads.
- Rolltok is not the publisher or owner of member content and does not claim authorship of anything you upload.

3 · Copyright & disputes

- If uploaded content shows a copyright issue or pattern, the matter is a discussion between the rights holder and the person who performed and published that upload.
- Rolltok will not be responsible or liable for such an issue. We may remove, restrict or Redzone the content while it is under review.
- Repeated or serious infringement can lead to removal of content and termination of the account.

4 · Community conduct

- No illegal, hateful, sexually explicit, violent or harmful content, and nothing involving minors in an unsafe way.
- No impersonation, spam, fake engagement or attempts to manipulate the feed.
- Content under review may be placed in the Redzone and hidden from the public feed until the review is complete.

5 · Privacy — what we store

- Account basics: email, username, display name, avatar, cover images and bio.
- Optional profile details you add yourself, such as date of birth and sex, kept private to you.
- Activity used to tune your feed: watch events, likes, ratings, comments, follows, fan tiers and chosen interests.

- Direct messages and attachments, readable only by you and the members in that conversation.
- Subscription and payment status. Card details are handled by the payment provider and never stored by Rolltok.

6 · How your data is used

- To personalise your For You feed, Viral picks, Episodes and Jarvis suggestions.
- To operate messaging, notifications and creator statistics.
- To keep the platform safe: moderation, Redzone review and abuse prevention.
- We do not sell your personal data. We never publish your private profile fields.

7 · Your rights & control

- Edit or delete your content at any time; deleted clips move to Trash before removal.
- Update your interests, fan tiers, close friends and notification preferences whenever you like.
- Block members, and request deletion of your account and personal data.
- Download this agreement as a PDF at any time for your own records.

8 · Acceptance

- Tapping “I agree & continue” records your acceptance of this agreement, with the version and timestamp, against your Rolltok account.
- You can re-read and re-accept the latest version any time from Settings → Privacy & creator agreement.

This document is provided for the member's own records. Acceptance of this agreement is recorded against the member's Rolltok account with the version and timestamp shown in the app.
